

Miss Krueger's Kindergarten Class

October 31st, 2014

Reading: We focused on the letter K this week and learned that K makes the same sound as C! We learned our new sight word “said” and have been finding this in many books that we read. Sequencing was a new concept the students learned and they enjoyed reading “Room on the Broom” and “The Little Old Lady Who Wasn’t Afraid of Anything”. These stories are very entertaining and students liked the sequencing activities that went with them.

Writing: We continued to talk about hard-to-write ideas and pictures. The students talked to their partners about what they wanted to write about. I’m still trying to get some students out of their comfort zone and have them write about different topics. Many students have started using finger spaces in their writing, which is great to see!

Math: Those teen numbers are tricky! We are going to be doing a review of them throughout next week. We are going to take our time with counting from 1 – 100 as well.

Science: We wrapped up our tree unit by discussing coniferous trees! The students will be able to observe the trees in our schoolyard when winter and spring approach.

Halloween Party:

The students loved having their costumes on during the party and parade! Thank you for bringing in snacks and drinks. It was greatly appreciated! ☺

Halloween:

This week we read some great Halloween themed books. We even got to find out about Halloween traditions from around the world! The students got to re-enact “The Little Old Lady Who Wasn’t Afraid of Anything” with props and they loved repeating all the onomatopoeias they heard!

Snack:

As October comes to a close, our snack supply is dwindling down. Please remember to send a healthy snack to school at the beginning of each month.

Upcoming Dates:

November 3rd – End of 1st Quarter

November 13th – Parent-Teacher
Conferences

November 26th – Early Release

Nov. 27 – 28th – Thanksgiving
Break

Theme for Next Week:

- Hibernation
- Letter Ee
- Sight Word Review: “We”

I will be putting up pictures of the pumpkin decorating on the classroom website!

Have a safe night trick or treating!
